Family Home Care named as one of 100 Best Companies to Work for in 2015

We are pleased to announce that Family Home Care, a major provider of in-home private care to hundreds of families in the Inland Empire, has been recognized for the fourth time as one of the top 100 employers in Washington State. FHC was one of only two companies recognized from Eastern Washington this year and the only employer from the greater Spokane area who achieved this designation.

Family Home Care scored the highest in the category of Executive Leadership in the dozens of areas assessed by employees. Jeff Wiberg, President of FHC said, "Given the increased difficulty in attracting and retaining top talent, we have sought to become more innovative on benefits, recognition and employee engagement programs to compete and continue providing the quality of care we are known for. This award, ultimately as a result of our employees' feedback, reflects the effort and success on our initiatives. We are humbled and grateful for this award."

Family Home Care has previously been named to this list in 2011, 2012, & 2014 making this year the fourth time to achieve this honor, however, this is the first time FHC has been the sole honoree in the Spokane area.
